The Founder's Blueprint

Twelve weeks. Four domains. One action plan a week.

You are making the thing and finding who it is for. Everything depends on you, and that is exactly what the first weeks work on.

Each week has a word, and each letter of the word is one domain: you, your people, your business, your market. In every domain you tap the line that sounds like you, slide to the honest number, write one sentence, and leave with one action, its day, and how you will know on Sunday that it is done.

12 levels | 20 actions a week, five in each domain | 3 chapters, 3 readings | 3 pages to build | 3 sessions with Alexandru and the team

ExploraSelf · A Good People Company · Lead yourself. Grow your business.
linktolead.exploraself.com · A self-reflection and planning tool, not a diagnosis. The same programme as the app: what you write here, you can write there.

BEFORE THE FIRST LEVEL

How to use this

Inform, reform, transform. Every domain opens with its idea and why it matters, ends in one action with a day, and leaves you something to keep in your own words.

Five actions in each domain. Your own action (Do), from your sentence, and four around it: Look (open and count), Decide (write the line), Involve (one person or customer), Keep (make it weekly). This manual writes them for before the first sale; the app writes them for your own size.

1. Tap. Tick the line that sounds most like you. Honest beats flattering.
2. Slide. Mark the honest number. Go and look it up if you can: the calendar, the bank statement, the messages.
3. Write once. One sentence, a few words in each blank. A real name, a real day, a real number.
4. Done when. How you will know on Sunday. Then: how sure are you, from 0 to 100%?
5. Four lines back. Where you were (admit it), where you struggle (don't fight it), where you shine (don't ignore it), what you will do (exactly).

Every Sunday, ten minutes. Look at last week's four actions: Done, Partly or Not yet. A no is information, not a verdict. Not done? Take its smaller step. Then write the new week on your Planner's Monday page.

Your Blueprint. What you keep from each domain goes into one of eight parts: You, as a leader, Your people, What you sell, Your marketing, Your sales, Your money, Your systems, Your next twelve weeks. After twelve weeks, that is your blueprint, in your own words.

Write in the book. An answer in your head is not an answer.

BUILDING

The twelve weeks

01	SEED · What you believe One old rule tested, one task handed over, your enough as a number, three people asked to buy.	START WITH YOU
02	VIEW · How you read it One event written as facts, one person asked instead of judged, your five numbers read, one customer signal tested.	START WITH YOU
03	CALM · What you feel One feeling named under the stress, one new first reaction, a storm rule written, one client's fear in their own words.	START WITH YOU
04	STEP · What you do One if–then plan kept, one clear ask with a date, your hour priced, a weekly selling hour booked.	START WITH YOU
05	FACT · What you became One dated proof of who you are becoming, one person thanked specifically, one number read, three clients asked for their words.	START WITH YOU
06	TALK · The conversations you avoid One postponed conversation held, one talk where you listened more, one late payment asked for, one kind no said.	RUN THE BUSINESS
07	HOUR · Your week Protected hours in your calendar, one task one step up the ladder, your price floor, one marketing hour booked.	RUN THE BUSINESS
08	GOLD · Your offer Your gift named and one thing dropped, three clear client steps, three price levels, your offer in one line.	RUN THE BUSINESS
09	FLOW · Your systems A weekly review held, one area with an owner, one page of cash, your warm list written down.	RUN THE BUSINESS
10	NAME · Your first hundred names Ten people contacted, one partner asked, your best client described, three customer conversations booked.	GROW THE MARKET
11	EDGE · Your advantage Three people asked for honest feedback, one open question in a meeting, your advantage written with proof, three testimonials asked for.	GROW THE MARKET
12	RISE · Your twelve weeks Your leader sentence written, one person given something to own, a twelve-week number with checkpoints, one market test set.	GROW THE MARKET

CHAPTER I

Start with you

You, and the basics of a business: what you believe, how you read what happens, what you feel, what you do and what it makes of you, with the customer, serving, money and goals.

01

WEEK 1 · CONVICTION · WHAT YOU BELIEVE

SEED · What you believe

BY SUNDAY YOU WILL HAVE

One old rule tested, one task handed over, your enough as a number, three people asked to buy.

~~"This is just who I am."~~ → "What I believe was learned. It can be tested and renewed."

S

LEAD YOURSELF

Settled · The rule that decides your worth

Somewhere you learned a rule for being worth something. It still runs your week, until you test it.

WHY IT MATTERS

A rule like this was learned early, often from someone you wanted to please. It still decides how you rest, price and say no. You do not argue a rule away; you test it once and look at what really happens.

1. Tap. Finish the sentence that runs your work: "If I ___, then I'm worth something."

   ☐ hit my numbers ☐ work harder than everyone ☐ never let anyone down ☐ prove them wrong ☐ get it perfect

2. Slide. Last month, how often did that rule decide your day?

   Never ——— Every day

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   I am _____ before I achieve anything. On _____ I will _____.

   worth it, enough... which day one thing the old rule forbids

4. Done when on _____ you did " _____ ", and wrote one line on what really happened.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOU, AS A LEADER

The test card

1. Old rule: If I _____ , then I'm worth something.
2. The test: on _____ I _____ .
3. What I feared would happen: _____
4. What really happened: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) On the day you chose, do one thing the old rule forbids, and write one line on what really happened. Example: Saturday off the idea; Sunday, three planned hours on it.

☐ Look Open last month's calendar. Mark every evening or weekend you gave the idea out of guilt, not by plan. Count them.

☐ Decide Write the old rule in one line ("If I ___, then I'm worth something"), the days it took, and the line you choose instead: "I am ___ before I achieve anything." The pressure, named: Your job pays the rent this month. Your worth is not on trial.

☐ Involve Tell your partner or a friend what you are testing, and ask them on Monday: "Did anything break?"

☐ Keep Book one evening a week off the idea for the next four weeks, in your calendar now.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: a short version of it, on the next free day. Then write the line.

E

LEAD YOUR PEOPLE

Entrust · One task out of your hands

Trust is built in small, checked steps. A clear "done" protects both of you.

WHY IT MATTERS

Every task you keep because "nobody does it right" costs you an hour you needed for the work only you can do. Trust is built in small, checked steps, not in one leap. A clear "done" protects both of you.

1. Tap. Finish it honestly: "People usually ___."

   ☐ let me down ☐ do it worse than I would ☐ need me to check everything ☐ rise when they are trusted

2. Slide. How much of last week's work did you hold because "nobody else can do it right"?

   None ——— All of it

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   I hand _____ (one task) to _____ (a name) on _____ (which day). Done means _____ (what finished looks like).

4. Done when on _____ you handed _____ to _____ , with " _____ " in writing, and checked it only once.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

Building No team yet? Hand it to a tool, a template, or a freelancer for two hours.

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR PEOPLE

The hand-over note

1. _____ , from _____ , this is yours: _____ .
2. Done means: _____ .
3. I will check it once, on _____ . Ask me anything before you start.

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Hand it over on the day you chose, with "done" in writing, and check it only once. Example: A two-hour brief to a freelancer.

☐ Look List what you did for the idea last week that a tool, a template or a freelancer could do in two hours. Mark the one that took longest.

☐ Decide Write what "done" means for it, in one sentence a stranger could check. Example: "Three logo options as PNG files, by Friday noon."

☐ Involve Ask the person: "What would you need from me to do this without asking me?" Write their answer down, and give it to them.

☐ Keep Save the brief as a template for the next hand-over.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: hand over one part of ..., or do it once side by side, then let them do the next one.

E

LEAD YOUR BUSINESS

Enough · Money: the sentence you grew up with, and your enough

Enough is a finish line, not a ceiling. Without a number, every month feels short.

WHY IT MATTERS

Without a number for enough, every month feels short and every price feels too high. Enough is a finish line, not a ceiling: it tells you when to stop chasing and what to charge. The sentence you grew up with is not your business plan.

1. Tap. Which money sentence did you hear most growing up?

   ☐ There is never enough ☐ Money is for greedy people ☐ We don't talk about money

   ☐ Money proves you are someone ☐ Work hard and it will come

2. Slide. Money in, fixed costs, what was left last month: how sure are you of all three?

   Guessing ——— Exactly

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   My enough is _____ a month. On _____ I will _____ .
   an amount which day one money move

4. Done when on _____ you made the money move you wrote: " _____ ".

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR MONEY

My money line

1. Enough: _____ a month.
2. Last month in: _____ · fixed costs: _____ · left: _____
3. The money move: _____ , on _____ .

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Make the one money move you wrote, on the day you chose. Example: Check that price with one person who might buy.

☐ Look Write the money you need each month to live, and how many months your job or savings cover while you test the idea.

☐ Decide Write your enough, and the price that would reach it with ten customers.

☐ Involve Tell one person your enough number: a partner, a friend in business, a mentor.

☐ Keep Book twenty minutes every Monday to read the same three numbers. A machine can add them up; what they mean is your call.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: open last month's statement and write the three numbers. The move can wait a week; the looking cannot.

D

LEAD THE MARKET

Dignity · Asking someone to buy

If your offer helps, asking is service. The answer belongs to them.

WHY IT MATTERS

If your offer helps, then not asking keeps help from the people who need it. Asking is service; the answer belongs to them. A no tells you something true about the offer or the timing, never about your worth.

1. Tap. When I ask someone to buy, I feel like I am...

   ☐ begging ☐ bothering them ☐ showing off ☐ helping

2. Slide. In the last 30 days, how many times did you directly ask someone to buy or to book?

   None ——— 20 or more

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   My offer helps _____ (who) with _____ (which problem). By _____ (which day) I ask _____ (three names).

4. Done when you asked _____ by _____, and wrote each answer word for word. A yes, a no and no answer all count.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR SALES

The ask, ready to send

1. Hi _____, I help _____ with _____.
2. I think I can help you too. Could we talk for twenty minutes this week?
3. Asked: _____. Their answers, word for word: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By Friday, ask three people who might buy to try it, at a price. Write each answer word for word.

☐ Look Count the people you told about the idea last month, and how many of them you asked to try it.

☐ Decide Write your offer in one line: who it helps, with which problem. Example: "I help new parents get their evenings back."

☐ Involve Ask the three: "What would make this a yes for you?" Keep their exact words.

☐ Keep Book one hour a week to ask, the same day each week, for the next four weeks.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: ask one of the three today, by message, with the two lines above.

LEVEL 01 · YOUR WEEK

Four actions, each with its day

	DOMAIN	THE ACTION, IN A FEW WORDS	DAY	HOW SURE	SUNDAY
☐ ★	Lead yourself			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your people			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your business			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead the market			%	☐ ☐ ☐

Tick ★ on the domain your North Star marked “Start here”: that one is My one move on your Planner’s Monday page; the other three are your Three goals. Sunday: Done · Partly · Not yet. Ten minutes.

02

WEEK 2 · READING · HOW YOU READ WHAT HAPPENS

VIEW · How you read it

BY SUNDAY YOU WILL HAVE

One event written as facts, one person asked instead of judged, your five numbers read, one customer signal tested.

~~"I know what happened."~~ → "I know what I saw. The rest is a story I can check."

FIRST, LAST WEEK

Read last week's four actions. Each one: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet. Not done? Take its smaller step this week.

V

LEAD YOURSELF

Verify · Facts before the story

Your mind writes a story in a second. Facts first, on paper, and the story stops deciding for you.

WHY IT MATTERS

Your mind writes a story in a second, then acts on it as if it were fact. Most bad decisions in a hard week come from the story, not from the facts. Separate them on paper and the next step usually becomes plain.

1. Tap. When something goes wrong, my first story is...

   ☐ it's my fault ☐ they did it on purpose ☐ it will all collapse ☐ I'll never get this right

2. Slide. Last week, how often did the story come before the facts?

   Never ——— Every time

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   The facts: _____ (what a camera saw). My story: _____ (what I told myself). The truer reading: _____ (what else could be true).

4. The day. By which day will one more event be written this way? _____ (a day)

5. Done when by _____, one more event (the next thing that goes wrong, or the hardest moment of the week) is written as facts, story and a truer reading, before you acted on it.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOU, AS A LEADER

The three-line check, for any hard moment

1. What a camera would have seen: _____
2. The story I told myself: _____
3. What else could be true: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) The next time something goes wrong, write the facts, the story and the truer reading before you reply or decide.

☐ Look Open your notes and messages from last week. Find the moment the idea felt hopeless, and write what actually happened in one line a camera could film.

☐ Decide Next to it, write the story you told yourself, and one other reading that could also be true. Example: A friend did not reply about the idea: maybe busy, not a verdict.

☐ Involve Before you act on the story, check one fact with the person involved: "Can I check what happened?"

☐ Keep Keep the three-line check (facts, story, truer reading) on your phone, and use it on the hardest moment of each week.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: take the last thing that annoyed you, even a small one, and write the three lines tonight.

I

LEAD YOUR PEOPLE

Inquire · Ask before you judge

Decide why someone let you down without asking, and you lead the person in your head. One question finds the real one.

WHY IT MATTERS

When you decide why someone let you down without asking, you lead the person in your head, not the real one. One honest question takes five minutes and saves weeks of quiet resentment. Ask, then only listen.

1. Tap. When someone lets me down, I usually...

   ☐ decide why, without asking ☐ say nothing and remember ☐ fix it myself ☐ ask what happened

2. Slide. Out of 10 conclusions you drew about people last week, how many did you check by asking?

   None ——— All ten

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   By _____ I ask _____ : “When _____ , what was going on for you?”
   which day a name what happened

4. Done when by _____ you asked _____ the question, only listened, and wrote one line of what you heard.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don’t fight it.

Where you shine Don’t ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR PEOPLE

The question, ready to ask

1. _____ , when _____ , what was going on for you?
2. Then: “What would help next time?”
3. What I heard: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Ask it on the day you chose, then only listen. Write one line of what you heard.

☐ Look List the people helping you: a partner, a friend, a freelancer. Mark one you judged last week without asking.

☐ Decide Write the question you will ask: “When ___ happened, what was going on for you?” Example: “When the mock-up came late, what was going on for you?”

☐ Involve Then ask: “What would help next time?” Do the part that is yours by Friday.

☐ Keep Before you judge anyone this month, ask first. Mark each time in your notes.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: send the question as a message today, and read the answer twice before you reply.

E

LEAD YOUR BUSINESS

Evidence · Your five numbers, on a fixed day

Numbers are not a verdict on you. Read weekly, they tell the truth while it is still cheap to act.

WHY IT MATTERS

Numbers are not a verdict on you. They are the business telling you the truth early, while it is still cheap to act. A machine can add them up in seconds; only you can decide what they mean and what you do on Monday.

1. Tap. Most money decisions, I make...

   ☐ by feel ☐ by today’s bank balance ☐ by a number I check ☐ by avoiding them

2. Slide. How many of these five do you know for last month: money in, money out, cash left, unpaid invoices, hours worked?

   None ——— All five

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   Every _____ (which day) at _____ (what time) I read my five numbers. The one I fear most is _____ (which one).

4. Done when on _____ at _____ you read all five numbers, _____ first, and wrote them down.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

Building No sales yet? Money in is zero: read it anyway, and add one more number, conversations held.

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR MONEY

My five numbers, every _____ at _____

1. Money in: _____ · money out: _____ · cash left: _____
2. Unpaid invoices: _____ · hours worked: _____
3. _____, read first. What it tells me: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Read all five on that day, the feared one first, and write them down.

☐ Look Write the five numbers of the idea: money spent so far, cost each month, months of savings left, people asked, people who said yes.

☐ Decide Choose the day and the time you read them every week, and the one you fear most, to read first.

☐ Involve Show the five to one person who will ask you about them next week.

☐ Keep Put the reading in your calendar as a weekly event. The machine adds them up; what they ask of you is your decision.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: read only ... this week, on ..., and write it down.

LEAD THE MARKET

W Watch signals · One customer signal, tested

Praise is interest; payment is evidence. A signal you test turns a guess about customers into something you know.

> WHY IT MATTERS
> Praise feels like progress, but only payment is proof. A signal you test turns guessing into knowing, and knowing is what a sales rhythm is built on. One honest check beats a week of worry.

1. Tap. When a customer goes quiet, I think…

   ☐ they didn't like it ☐ I was too pushy ☐ it's timing ☐ I don't know, I never asked

2. Slide. Of your last 10 "interested" people, how many paid?

   None ——— All ten

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   The signal I'm testing: when a customer _____ (does what), it means _____ (what you think). I check by _____ (how).

4. The day. By which day will you have checked it once? _____ (a day)

5. Done when by _____ you checked the signal once (_____), and wrote what the customer actually said.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR SALES

The signal test

1. When a customer _____ , I think it means _____ .
2. I check by _____ .
3. What they actually said: _____ · Was I right? _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Check the signal once this week, and write what the customer actually said.

☐ Look Count the people who said “interesting” about the idea last month, and how many asked the price or for a time.

☐ Decide Write one signal you believe in (“when a customer ___, it means ___”) and how you will check it. Example: When someone asks when it launches, they would pay.

☐ Involve Ask the customer directly: “What would you need to decide?” Keep their words.

☐ Keep Keep a page of signals and what really happened. Read it before every ask.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: ask the next person who shows interest one question: “What would make this a yes for you?”

LEVEL 02 · YOUR WEEK

Four actions, each with its day

	DOMAIN	THE ACTION, IN A FEW WORDS	DAY	HOW SURE	SUNDAY
☐ ★	Lead yourself			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your people			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your business			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead the market			%	☐ ☐ ☐

Tick ★ on the domain your North Star marked “Start here”: that one is My one move on your Planner’s Monday page; the other three are your Three goals. Sunday: Done · Partly · Not yet. Ten minutes.

03

WEEK 3 · EMOTION · WHAT YOU FEEL, AND DO WITH IT

CALM · What you feel

BY SUNDAY YOU WILL HAVE

One feeling named under the stress, one new first reaction, a storm rule written, one client's fear in their own words.

~~"Feelings get in the way."~~ → "Feelings carry information. I name them, then I decide."

FIRST, LAST WEEK

Read last week's four actions. Each one: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet. Not done? Take its smaller step this week.

C

LEAD YOURSELF

Call it · The feeling under the stress

"Stressed" is a cover word. Name the feeling under it, and you can answer it instead of being run by it.

WHY IT MATTERS

"Stressed" is a cover word. Each feeling that can hide under it (fear, shame, anger, loneliness, tiredness) asks for something different. Name it and you can answer it; leave it unnamed and it decides for you.

1. Tap. Under "stressed", the real feeling is most often...

   ☐ afraid ☐ ashamed ☐ angry ☐ lonely ☐ tired

2. Slide. How strong is it on most days?

   Calm ——— Storm

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   Under my _____ (stress, anger...) is _____ (the real feeling). When it comes, I _____ (one thing that helps).

4. The day. By which day will you have used it once? _____ (a day)

5. Done when by _____, at the first tense moment, you did this before deciding: _____. You wrote down the day.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOU, AS A LEADER

When it comes

1. Under my _____ is _____ .
2. What helps: _____ .
3. Then I decide. Not before.

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) At the first tense moment this week, do that first, then decide. Write down the day.

☐ Look Write the three moments last week your stomach tightened about the idea. Next to each, name what was under it: afraid, ashamed, angry, lonely or tired.

☐ Decide Write what you will do first, before you decide, in one line you can do within ten minutes. Example: Write my answer to my partner about money, then wait an hour before I say it.

☐ Involve Tell one person what you feel under the stress, in one sentence, and what you will do about it.

☐ Keep Put the line on your phone's lock screen, use it each time this week, and count the times.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: the next time you feel tense, say the real word to yourself, even silently. That counts as the first time.

A

LEAD YOUR PEOPLE

Atmosphere · Your first five seconds under pressure

People watch your face in the first five seconds after bad news, and decide whether to bring you the next one.

WHY IT MATTERS

People watch your face in the first five seconds after bad news, and decide whether to bring you the next one. If bad news is not safe with you, you hear it late, when it is expensive. Change the first reaction and the room changes with it.

1. Tap. Under pressure, the people around me see me...

   ☐ snap ☐ go silent ☐ work alone ☐ stay steady

2. Slide. How safe is it for someone to bring you bad news?

   Not safe ——— Safe

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   Under pressure, I will _____ what you'll do instead of _____ what you do now . I ask _____ a name to tell me when I slip.

4. The day. Which day will you ask them? _____ a day

5. Done when you asked _____ on _____ to tell you when you slip, and under pressure you did this at least once: _____ .

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

Building No team yet? The people around you are clients, partners and family. Ask one of them.

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR PEOPLE

My first five seconds

1. Under pressure I will _____ , instead of _____ .
2. _____ tells me when I slip.
3. Times I slipped this week: _____ · times I kept it: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Use it at least once under pressure this week.

☐ Look Ask the person closest to you how you react when the idea goes wrong. Write their words.

☐ Decide Write what you will do in the first five seconds instead: one sentence you can say. Example: "Thank you for telling me. What do we know?"

☐ Involve Ask one person to tell you when you slip, and thank them when they do.

☐ Keep Count this week's slips and keeps in your notes.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: tell ... today, in one sentence, what you are practising. Asking is the first step.

L

LEAD YOUR BUSINESS

Lag · A rule for decisions in a storm

Storm decisions are the ones you pay for longest. A rule written while calm waits the storm out for you.

WHY IT MATTERS

The decisions made in a storm are usually the ones you pay for longest: a price cut, a hire, a quit. A rule written while you are calm is a gift to the person you will be on a bad day. You do not have to win the feeling; you only have to wait it out.

1. Tap. The decision I most often make in a storm

   ☐ spending ☐ pricing ☐ hiring or firing ☐ quitting a project ☐ saying yes to everything

2. Slide. When you are upset, how many hours do you wait before a big decision?

   None —— Two days

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   When I feel _____ (which feeling) above 7 out of 10, I wait _____ (how many hours) hours before I decide about _____ (what).

4. The day. By which day will the rule be where you see it? _____ (a day)

5. Done when by _____, the rule is on your phone's lock screen or on your desk, and one person knows it.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOU, AS A LEADER

The rule I wrote while calm

1. When I feel _____ above 7 out of 10,
2. I wait _____ hours before I decide about _____.
3. Who I call while I wait: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Put the rule on your phone's lock screen or your desk, and use it in the first storm this week.

☐ Look Write the last money decision you made upset about the idea, and what it cost.

☐ Decide Write your storm rule while you are calm: "When I feel ___ above 7 out of 10, I wait ___ hours before I decide about ___." Example: Panic: 24 hours before I spend savings.

☐ Involve Tell one person the rule, and agree they are the one you call while you wait.

☐ Keep Every Friday this month, write the storm decisions you waited on, and what you decided after.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: write the rule on a note today and put it where you work.

M

LEAD THE MARKET

Meet their fear · Your client's fear, in their words

People buy to move away from a fear and towards a hope. Their own words for both are your best message.

WHY IT MATTERS

People buy to move away from a fear and towards a hope, then explain it with logic afterwards. If you guess the fear, your message speaks to the wrong thing. Their own words, written down, are the best marketing you will ever have.

1. Tap. My clients' biggest fear is...

   ☐ wasting money ☐ looking foolish ☐ losing time ☐ being let down again ☐ I don't know

2. Slide. How sure are you, from their own words?

   Guessing ——— Their exact words

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   My clients fear _____ (their fear) and hope for _____ (their hope). By _____ (which day) I ask _____ (a client) in their words.

4. Done when you asked _____ by _____, and wrote their fear and their hope in their own words, or that they have not answered yet.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR MARKETING

Their fear, their hope

1. _____ fears: _____ (their words)
2. And hopes for: _____ (their words)
3. The first line of my next message: "If you're worried about _____, ..."

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) On the day you chose, ask one client: “Before we started, what worried you most? What did you hope for?” Write their words.

☐ Look Read three messages from people who might buy. Underline every worry.

☐ Decide Write your guess, marked as a guess: “They fear ___ and hope for ___.” Example: They fear wasting money on something new; they hope for an easier evening.

☐ Involve Use their exact words in the first line of your next message: “If you’re worried about ___, …”

☐ Keep Keep a page of their words, fears and hopes, word for word. Add one every week.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: ask one client one question by message: “What almost stopped you from working with me?”

LEVEL 03 · YOUR WEEK

Four actions, each with its day

	DOMAIN	THE ACTION, IN A FEW WORDS	DAY	HOW SURE	SUNDAY
☐ ★	Lead yourself			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your people			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your business			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead the market			%	☐ ☐ ☐

Tick ★ on the domain your North Star marked “Start here”: that one is My one move on your Planner’s Monday page; the other three are your Three goals. Sunday: Done · Partly · Not yet. Ten minutes.

1:1 WITH ALEXANDRU AND THE TEAM

Session 1 · Set the twelve weeks

When. Opens Level 04, before its first screen.

Bring. The North Star result, the answers of Levels 01 to 03, and the Launchpad plan counts. Alexandru and the team read them before the call.

1. Read the first three weeks together: which actions were Done, Partly, Not yet.

2. Name the one domain that costs the business most right now.

3. Set one number for the twelve weeks, with a date. It goes into the Planner’s twelve-week contract (Growth Plan step 5).

4. Write the first if–then plan of Level 04 together.

Done when the number and its date are in your Planner’s twelve-week contract, and your first if–then is written.

04 STEP · What you do

WEEK 4 · DEEDS · HOW YOU MANAGE ACTION

BY SUNDAY YOU WILL HAVE

One if–then plan kept, one clear ask with a date, your hour priced, a weekly selling hour booked.

~~"I'll do it when I feel ready."~~ → "I decide once, in advance, and the day carries me."

FIRST, LAST WEEK

Read last week's four actions. Each one: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet. Not done? Take its smaller step this week.

S — LEAD YOURSELF

Set it in advance · Decide once, in advance

Willpower runs out by the afternoon. A plan decided in advance (when this, I do that) works on tired days too.

WHY IT MATTERS

Willpower is weakest when you are tired or rushed; a decision made in advance does not need it. An if–then plan works because the hard choice is already made when the moment comes. Plan for the obstacle you know will show up, not for a perfect day.

1. Tap. What breaks my plans most

   ☐ messages ☐ other people's urgencies ☐ my mood ☐ perfectionism ☐ tiredness

2. Slide. Out of 10 plans you made last week, how many did you keep?

   None ——— All ten

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   When _____ (a moment), I will _____ (the action). If _____ (the obstacle) shows up, then I _____ (your answer).

4. The day. Which day will you use it first? _____ (a day)

5. Done when from _____ to Sunday, you used the plan every working day and marked each one "kept" or "not kept".

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOU, AS A LEADER

My if–then

1. When _____ , I will _____ .
2. If _____ , then I _____ .
3. Kept: Mon ☐ Tue ☐ Wed ☐ Thu ☐ Fri ☐

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Use it every working day this week, and mark each day "kept" or "not kept".

☐ Look Count last week's plans: how many you made, how many you kept, and what broke the rest. Example: The evening hour on the idea, broken by tiredness.

☐ Decide Write one if–then plan: "When ___, I will ___. If ___ shows up, then I ___."

☐ Involve Tell the people you live with your plan, so they know when you work on the idea.

☐ Keep Put the plan in your calendar as a recurring block for the next four weeks.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: use the plan once, tomorrow, for ten minutes. One kept plan is the start of the habit.

T

LEAD YOUR PEOPLE

Tell it clearly · One ask with a date and a done

Most frustration with people is a request never made clearly. A date and a picture of "done" let them succeed.

WHY IT MATTERS

Most frustration with people is a request that was never made clearly: no date, no picture of done. A clear ask is a kindness, because it lets people succeed. If it matters, write it down.

1. Tap. My frustration with people is usually that they...

   ☐ don't finish ☐ do it differently ☐ don't tell me ☐ wait for me

2. Slide. Out of 10 requests you made last week, how many had a clear "done" and a date?

   None —— All ten

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   I ask _____ for _____ by _____ . Done looks like _____ .
   a name what a date done

4. Done when _____ has the ask in writing, with the date and the done, and on _____ you checked it once.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR PEOPLE

The clear ask, ready to send

1. _____ , could I have _____ by _____ ?
2. Done looks like: _____ .
3. Is there anything you need from me to do it?

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Send the ask in writing, with the date and the "done", and check it once on the day.

☐ Look Read the last three things you asked someone to do. Mark the ones with no date or no clear "done".

☐ Decide Rewrite one of them in four parts: who, what, by when, and what "done" looks like.

☐ Involve End the ask with: "Is there anything you need from me to do it?" Give them what they need.

☐ Keep Use who, what, when and "done" for every ask this month.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: take one request you already made this week, add a date and a "done", and send it again.

E

LEAD YOUR BUSINESS

Essential first · Your hour has a price

Your hour has a price whether you name it or not. Once you know it, cheap work stops looking free.

WHY IT MATTERS

Your hour has a price whether you name it or not. Once you know it, cheap work stops looking free: every hour of admin you keep is paid at your rate. The first hour of the day decides what kind of week it becomes.

1. Tap. Where my hours go that are not mine

   ☐ admin ☐ messages ☐ fixing others' work ☐ low-paid jobs

2. Slide. Hours a week on work someone cheaper could do

None ——— 40 hours

My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

My hour is worth _____ . First, every day: _____ . I hand back _____ .

enough ÷ hours you want your one priority one task

4. The day. Which day will you hand back them? _____ a day

5. Done when _____ came first on three days, and _____ was handed back by _____ .

How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: WHAT YOU SELL

My hour

1. My hour is worth _____ .
2. First, every day: _____ .
3. Handed back: _____ . Hours it gives me each week: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Put the work only you can do first, every day this week, and hand one task back by the day you chose.

☐ Look Write the hours you gave the idea last week, and mark the ones that moved it toward a first sale.

☐ Decide Write your hour's price: the income you want, divided by the hours you can give.

☐ Involve Ask a freelancer or a friend for a price on the task that steals the most hours.

☐ Keep Block the first hour of every working day for the work only you can do, for the next four weeks.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: protect the first hour on two days, not every day, and do … in it.

P

LEAD THE MARKET

Pace · A weekly selling hour

Delivery fills every free hour, so selling waits until the work runs out. A fixed selling hour keeps next month full.

> WHY IT MATTERS
> Delivery fills every free hour, so selling only happens when the work runs out, which is the worst time to start. A fixed selling hour keeps the pipeline full while you are busy. Everyone hears from you twice, because people are busy, not uninterested.

1. Tap. I look for clients...

   ☐ only when it's empty ☐ when I feel brave ☐ at a fixed time each week ☐ never, they find me

2. Slide. Buyer conversations per week right now

   None ——— 20 a week

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   Every _____ which day at _____ what time I talk with _____ how many potential buyers.

   Everyone hears from me twice.

4. Done when on _____ at _____ you contacted _____ potential buyers, and followed up once with everyone who was silent.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR SALES

My selling hour

1. Every _____ at _____ : _____ buyer conversations.
2. Everyone hears from me twice.
3. When they say "let me think": "Of course. What would you need to know to decide?" Then agree a day.
4. This week: talked _____ · asked _____ · yes _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Hold the hour on the day, talk to the buyers you chose, and follow up once with everyone who stays silent.

☐ Look Count the conversations you had with possible buyers last week. Write their names.

☐ Decide Choose your selling hour: the day, the time, and how many buyers you will talk to.

☐ Involve When someone says “let me think”, ask: “What would you need to know to decide?” Then agree a day.

☐ Keep Keep the hour every week for the next four weeks, and write next week’s names before you close it.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: one conversation this week, at the same day and time, and put next week’s in the calendar now.

LEVEL 04 · YOUR WEEK

Four actions, each with its day

	DOMAIN	THE ACTION, IN A FEW WORDS	DAY	HOW SURE	SUNDAY
☐ ★	Lead yourself			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your people			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your business			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead the market			%	☐ ☐ ☐

Tick ★ on the domain your North Star marked “Start here”: that one is My one move on your Planner’s Monday page; the other three are your Three goals. Sunday: Done · Partly · Not yet. Ten minutes.

05

WEEK 5 · OUTCOME · WHAT YOUR RESULTS MAKE OF YOU

FACT · What you became

BY SUNDAY YOU WILL HAVE

One dated proof of who you are becoming, one person thanked specifically, one number read, three clients asked for their words.

~~"Results decide who I am."~~ → "Results are feedback on who I am becoming."

FIRST, LAST WEEK

Read last week's four actions. Each one: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet. Not done? Take its smaller step this week.

F

LEAD YOURSELF

Fruit is feedback · Proof of who you are becoming

Identity changes after the evidence, not before it. Every dated proof is evidence of who you are becoming.

WHY IT MATTERS

Identity changes after the evidence, not before it. Every dated proof is evidence of who you are becoming, and on a hard day it is the list you read. One proof is a start; a habit is a long list.

1. Tap. The proof I see most since Level 01

   ☐ I rest without guilt ☐ I decide faster ☐ I ask for money ☐ I stay calmer ☐ not yet

2. Slide. How much do you believe your new sentence from Level 01 today?

   Not at all ——— Fully

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   I am becoming someone who _____ (who you are becoming). My proof: _____ (one dated example).

4. The day. By which day will you add one more proof? _____ (a day)

5. Done when by _____, a second dated proof is written under the first.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOU, AS A LEADER

My proof list

1. I am becoming someone who _____ .
2. 1. _____
3. 2. _____ (date) · 3. _____ (date)

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Add one more dated proof this week, under the first.

☐ Look Read what you wrote in Level 01. Mark one thing you do now that you did not do then.

☐ Decide Write the sentence "I am becoming someone who ___", and your first proof, with its date. Example: 14 Nov: I asked a stranger to try it, at a price.

☐ Involve Ask one person who works with you: "What have you seen me do differently lately?" Write their words.

☐ Keep Keep the proof list where you plan your week, and add one line every Friday.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: look back at the last four weeks, write one thing you did that the old you would not have done, and date it.

A

LEAD YOUR PEOPLE

Applaud · Thanks that names the thing

People repeat what gets noticed. Naming exactly what someone did, and what it changed, teaches them your standard.

WHY IT MATTERS

People repeat what gets noticed. A quick thanks is polite; naming exactly what someone did and what it changed teaches them what good looks like. It takes a minute and builds a team that knows your standard.

1. Tap. When people do well, I...

   ☐ rarely say it ☐ say a quick thanks ☐ name exactly what they did ☐ pay them, that's enough

2. Slide. Specific thanks you gave last week

   None ——— Ten

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   I thank _____ (a name) for _____ (what they did). It changed _____ (what changed).

4. The day. Which day will you tell them? _____ (a day)

5. Done when you told _____ on _____ , face to face or in writing, what they did and what it changed.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR PEOPLE

The thank-you, ready to send

1. _____ , thank you for _____ .
2. It changed _____ .
3. Next person to thank: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Tell them on the day you chose, face to face or in writing: what they did, and what it changed.

☐ Look List who helped the idea move this month: a friend, a partner, a first tester.

☐ Decide Pick one. Write exactly what they did, and what it changed.

☐ Involve Send the same kind of thanks to one more person this week.

☐ Keep Put one specific thank-you in your calendar every Friday, for four weeks.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: send the two lines above as a message today. In writing counts.

C

LEAD YOUR BUSINESS

Count · One number that tells the truth

One number read every week beats ten read once. When it misses, ask about the belief behind it, not only the tactic.

WHY IT MATTERS

One number read every week is worth more than ten read once. When it misses, the tactic is rarely the whole story: a belief often sits behind it, like a fear of asking or a price you are ashamed of. Ask both questions.

1. Tap. The one number that tells the truth now

   ☐ cash left ☐ money in ☐ profit per job ☐ hours worked ☐ new clients

2. Slide. Weeks in a row you have read it

   Never ——— 12 weeks

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   Every _____ (which day) I read _____ (the number) . When it misses, I question _____ (the belief behind it) , not only the tactic.

4. Done when on _____ you read _____ , wrote it on your Planner's Monday page (or on paper), and, if it missed, one line on the belief behind it.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR MONEY

My Monday number

1. Every _____ : _____ . This week: _____ · last week: _____
2. If it missed, the belief behind it: _____
3. The one thing I change: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Read it on your day, write it down, and if it missed, write one line on the belief behind it.

☐ Look Read your five numbers from Level 02. Mark the one that tells you most about whether the idea will work.

☐ Decide Write the one number you will read every week, and the belief you will question if it misses. Example: People who said yes; the belief: "nobody pays for this".

☐ Involve Tell one person the number, and what you will change if it misses again.

☐ Keep Write it every week in the same place, so you can see four weeks side by side.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: read ... once this week and write it on your Planner's Monday page.

T

LEAD THE MARKET

Testimony · Their words, not yours

Your words about your work sound like selling. A client's words sound like proof, and show why you are really chosen.

WHY IT MATTERS

When you describe your work, it sounds like selling; when a client describes it, it sounds like proof. Their words also tell you why you are really chosen, which is often not what you think. Ask, and write it down word for word.

1. Tap. Why clients really choose me (best guess)

   ☐ price ☐ trust ☐ speed ☐ results ☐ I don't know

2. Slide. Testimonials you have in writing

   None ——— 20

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   When _____ , my clients want to _____ , so they can _____ .
   their situation what they want the result

4. The day. By which day will you ask three clients? _____
   a day

5. Done when you asked three clients by _____ , and wrote their answers word for word. No answer counts too: write that down.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

Building No clients yet? Ask three people who tried it, or who have the problem you solve.

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR MARKETING

The question for three clients

1. "When you came to me, what was going on? What did you want instead? What changed?"
2. My guess: when _____ , they want to _____ , so they can _____ .
3. What they actually said: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By Friday, ask three people who tried it or might buy: "What was going on when you heard of it? What did you want instead?" Write their answers word for word.

☐ Look Read the words people have used about the idea since Level 01. Underline the ones you would never have written yourself.

☐ Decide Write your guess: "When ___ happens, my clients want to ___, so they can ___."

☐ Involve Ask one of them: "May I use your words?" Keep the yes in writing.

☐ Keep Every month, replace one line of what you say about the idea with their words.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: ask one client, by message, the first question only.

LEVEL 05 · YOUR WEEK

Four actions, each with its day

	DOMAIN	THE ACTION, IN A FEW WORDS	DAY	HOW SURE	SUNDAY
☐ ★	Lead yourself			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your people			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your business			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead the market			%	☐ ☐ ☐

Tick ★ on the domain your North Star marked “Start here”: that one is My one move on your Planner’s Monday page; the other three are your Three goals. Sunday: Done · Partly · Not yet. Ten minutes.

CHAPTER I READING

Start with you, read together

Where you were. Add up your slides across the chapter: my lowest domain _____ my highest _____

What you did. Done _____ Partly _____ Not yet _____ of _____ actions checked on Sunday.

How you estimate. ○ too hopeful ○ about right ○ too careful (the same three words as your Planner's Sunday page)

What you believed, what you believe now.

- ~~"This is just who I am."~~ "What I believe was learned. It can be tested and renewed."
- ~~"I know what happened."~~ "I know what I saw. The rest is a story I can check."
- ~~"Feelings get in the way."~~ "Feelings carry information. I name them, then I decide."
- ~~"I'll do it when I feel ready."~~ "I decide once, in advance, and the day carries me."
- ~~"Results decide who I am."~~ "Results are feedback on who I am becoming."

Where you began. My North Star said start with _____ . Now my lowest corner is _____ .

> "The way you run your day is the way you run your company. If you avoid your numbers at home, you will avoid them at work."
>
> Alexandru · Worth Building · Business is life, and life is business

Carry one forward. The undone action that matters most:

By _____
a day

BUILD IT · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR SYSTEMS

One process in ten lines

> WHY IT MATTERS
> A business that lives in your head stops when you do. The first process on paper is the first job that can leave your hands, and the first thing a new person can learn without you.

The thing you do most often that someone else could do: _____

It starts when _____

1.
2.
3.
4.
5.
6.
7.
8.
9.
10.

Who follows it first? _____

By which day will someone else follow it once? _____
a day

Done when _____ followed the steps once, by _____, without asking you.

CHAPTER II

Run the business

Inside the business: the conversations, your time, your offer and its price, and systems that run without you.

06

WEEK 6 · COMMUNICATION · THE CONVERSATIONS YOU AVOID

TALK · The conversations you avoid

BY SUNDAY YOU WILL HAVE

One postponed conversation held, one talk where you listened more, one late payment asked for, one kind no said.

~~"If I say it, it will get worse."~~ → "What is unsaid costs more every week."

FIRST, LAST WEEK

Read last week's four actions. Each one: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet. Not done? Take its smaller step this week.

T

LEAD YOURSELF

Truth first · The conversation you keep postponing

A conversation you postpone does not wait. It costs more each week, and the first sentence carries most of the courage.

WHY IT MATTERS

A conversation you postpone does not wait. It costs more each week, in rework, tension and decisions left hanging. Saying what you see and what you need, kindly and plainly, is respect, not attack; the first sentence carries most of the courage.

1. Tap. The conversation I keep postponing is about...

   ☐ money owed ☐ a price ☐ a person's work ☐ a partner ☐ my own limits

2. Slide. How many weeks have you postponed it?

   This week ——— Six months

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   On _____ (which day) I say to _____ (a name): "I need to talk about _____ (the topic).

   What I see is _____ (the facts). What I need is _____ (your ask)."

4. Done when the talk with _____ happened on _____, and you said the first sentence as you wrote it.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR PEOPLE

The first sentence

1. _____ , I need to talk about _____ .
2. What I see is _____ . What I need is _____ .
3. Then: "What do you need from me?"

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Hold the talk on the day you chose, and say the first sentence as you wrote it.

☐ Look List the conversations about the idea you have put off: with a partner, your family, a first tester. Next to each, write how many weeks it has waited.

☐ Decide Pick the one that costs most. Write its first sentence: "I need to talk about ___. What I see is ___. What I need is ___." Example: "I need to talk about the hours we each give this. I gave 20 last week, you gave 3. I need ten a week from you until launch."

☐ Involve At the end, ask: "What do you need from me?" Write their answer down, and do your part by Friday.

☐ Keep Each Friday this month, write the next conversation you are avoiding, and book it for the week after.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: book it today. Send ... one line asking for twenty minutes, with a day.

A

LEAD YOUR PEOPLE

Ask, then listen · Ask, then listen

In a hard talk, the one who speaks most learns least. One open question, then silence, tells you what you cannot guess.

WHY IT MATTERS

In a hard talk, the one who speaks most usually learns least. A good open question shows respect and gives you what you cannot learn any other way. Ask, then count to three before you speak.

1. Tap. In hard talks I usually...

   ☐ defend ☐ go quiet ☐ explain too much ☐ listen first

2. Slide. In your last hard talk, how much of the time did you speak?

   None —— All of it

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   In my next talk with _____ (a name) I ask “ _____ (one open question) ” and speak less than half.

4. The day. Which day is the talk with them? _____ (a day)

5. Done when in the talk with _____ on _____ you asked “ _____ ”, and spoke less than half the time.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don’t fight it.

Where you shine Don’t ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR PEOPLE

The listening card

1. My question: “ _____ ”
2. After they answer: “Tell me more.”
3. What I learned that I didn’t know: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) In the talk on the day you chose, ask your question, then wait three seconds before you speak. Write down one thing you learned.

☐ Look Open the messages from your last hard exchange about the idea. Count your lines and theirs.

☐ Decide Write one open question for your next hard talk: one that starts with what, how or when. Example: “What would make you want to try it?”

☐ Involve Afterwards, ask them: “Did you feel heard?” Keep their answer word for word.

☐ Keep Each Friday this month, write one thing you learned about the idea by asking instead of explaining.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: in your next ordinary conversation, ask one open question and let the silence sit for three seconds.

L

LEAD YOUR BUSINESS

Late money · Money that is yours

Money earned and not collected is a loan you never agreed to give. Asking for it is part of the work.

> WHY IT MATTERS
> Money you earned and did not collect is a loan you never agreed to give. Asking for it is part of the work, not a rudeness. A short, polite, firm message with a date works better than a long apology, and a deposit before you start means you ask less often.

1. Tap. The money talk I avoid is about...

   ☐ an unpaid invoice ☐ a discount I regret ☐ extra work for free ☐ a supplier price

2. Slide. How much money is stuck there?

   $0 ——— $10,000

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   By _____ which day I write to _____ a name : "Invoice _____ which invoice was due on _____ the date . Please pay by _____ a new date ."

4. Done when the message went to _____ on _____ . Being paid by _____ is theirs to do; sending it was yours.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

Building Nothing unpaid? Take the work you did for free, and ask to be paid for it from now on.

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR MONEY

The payment message, ready to send

1. Hi _____ , invoice _____ was due on _____ .
2. Please pay by _____ . Thank you.
3. If it is not paid by _____ , I call on _____ .
4. From now on, new work starts with a deposit of _____ .

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Send the message you wrote, on the day you chose: the invoice, the date it was due, and a new date. No apology, no extra sentences.

☐ Look List any money owed to you for the idea: a deposit promised, a pre-order, a loan to a friend. Write each amount, and since when.

☐ Decide Write the rule for your first sale: paid before you start, or a deposit, and how much.

☐ Involve Tell the next person who wants to try it, before you start, how and when they pay.

☐ Keep Put a deposit line in every offer you send from now on.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: send the two lines exactly as written. No extra sentences, no apology.

K

LEAD THE MARKET

Kind no · A kind no, with an alternative

Every wrong yes is a quiet no to the right client. A kind no with an alternative protects them and your standard.

WHY IT MATTERS

Every wrong yes is a quiet no to the right client, and often to your own evening. A kind no with an alternative protects the relationship and your standard. You do not need a long reason; you need a better suggestion.

1. Tap. The yes I should turn into a no

   ☐ a client who isn't a fit ☐ a free favour ☐ a discount request ☐ a project I don't believe in

2. Slide. Hours a week on work you should have said no to

   None ——— 30 hours

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   I say no to _____ (what), kindly: "This isn't the right fit for _____ (what). What I suggest is _____ (an alternative)."

4. The day. By which day will you say it? _____ (a day)

5. Done when by _____ you said the kind no about _____, offered _____, and did not take it back.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR SALES

The kind no, ready to say

1. “This isn’t the right fit for _____ .
2. What I suggest is _____ .”
3. Hours I get back each week: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Say the kind no by the day you chose, offer your alternative, and do not take it back.

☐ Look Open your calendar for the last two weeks. Mark the hours you gave to things that did not move the idea toward a first sale.

☐ Decide Write your kind no for the one that costs most: “This isn’t the right fit for ___. What I suggest is ___.” Example: “This isn’t the right fit for where I am now. What I suggest is that we talk again in a month.”

☐ Involve Tell one person you trust what you said no to, so they can remind you if you slide back.

☐ Keep Every Friday, write one thing you said no to, and the hours it gave back.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: the next time a small extra is asked for, say the same two lines.

LEVEL 06 · YOUR WEEK

Four actions, each with its day

	DOMAIN	THE ACTION, IN A FEW WORDS	DAY	HOW SURE	SUNDAY
☐ ★	Lead yourself			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your people			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your business			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead the market			%	☐ ☐ ☐

Tick ★ on the domain your North Star marked “Start here”: that one is My one move on your Planner’s Monday page; the other three are your Three goals. Sunday: Done · Partly · Not yet. Ten minutes.

07

WEEK 7 · TIME · YOUR WEEK AS AN ASSET

HOUR · Your week

BY SUNDAY YOU WILL HAVE

Protected hours in your calendar, one task one step up the ladder, your price floor, one marketing hour booked.

~~"There is never enough time."~~ → "My hours have a price, and I decide who gets them."

FIRST, LAST WEEK

Read last week's four actions. Each one: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet. Not done? Take its smaller step this week.

H

LEAD YOURSELF

Hold the line · Your best hours, guarded

Your best hours are the most valuable thing you own. Give the urgent a later hour, not your best one.

WHY IT MATTERS

Your best hours are the most valuable thing you own, and the urgent will always try to take them. What you protect on the calendar shows what you really believe matters. Give the urgent a later hour, not your best one.

1. Tap. What eats my best hours

   ☐ messages ☐ meetings ☐ delivery ☐ admin ☐ other people's urgencies

2. Slide. Hours of deep, focused work last week

   None ——— 30 hours

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   My best hours are _____ (from) to _____ (to) on _____ (which days). Nothing goes there but _____ (what).

4. Done when the hours from _____ to _____ are in your calendar for the next four weeks, and you kept them this week, _____.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOU, AS A LEADER

My best hours, guarded

1. _____ to _____ , _____ : only _____ .
2. If someone asks for that time: “I can do _____ instead.”
3. Kept this week: _____ of _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Put the hours in your calendar for the next four weeks, and keep them this week.

☐ Look Open last week’s calendar. Mark the hours you worked on the idea, and how clear your head was in each. Find your two best hours.

☐ Decide Write your guarded hours: the days, the times, and the only work that goes there. Example: Tuesday and Thursday, 7 to 9 pm: only the first customers.

☐ Involve Ask one person to message you at the end of each guarded session: “Did you keep it?”

☐ Keep Each Friday, count the guarded hours you kept, and protect next week’s before anything else goes in.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: protect one morning this week, not four, and put it in the calendar now.

O

LEAD YOUR PEOPLE

Own it · One task, one step up

Delegation fails when it jumps from “I do it” to “they own it”. Move one task up one step at a time.

WHY IT MATTERS

Delegation fails when it jumps from “I do it” to “they own it” in one step. Move one step at a time: I do it, they watch; they do it, I check; they own it. Each step builds the trust the next one needs.

1. Tap. The task I hold most is at this step

   ☐ I do it ☐ I do it, they watch ☐ they do it, I check ☐ they own it

2. Slide. Hours a week that task takes

   None ——— 20 hours

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   By _____ (a date) , _____ (the task) moves up one step: from “ _____ (the step now) ” to “ _____ (the next step) ”.

4. The day. Which day this week will it run that way for the first time? _____ (a day)

5. Done when on _____ , _____ ran once at “ _____ ”, and you wrote down what you checked.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

Building No team? The next step is a template or a tool doing it, and you checking.

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR SYSTEMS

The ladder for _____

1. Now: " _____ ". Next: " _____ ", by _____ .
2. What I check, and when: _____
3. What they decide alone: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Run the task once at its new step on the day you chose, and write down what you checked.

☐ Look List the jobs you do for the idea each week. Next to each, write whether a tool, a template or a freelancer could start doing it.

☐ Decide Choose one task. Write its next step, the date, what you will check, and when. Example: The weekly post: a template does it, I check it on Monday.

☐ Involve Ask the freelancer, or a friend who tried the template: "What was unclear?" Fix the template.

☐ Keep Every month, move one more job one step up the ladder.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: do ... once side by side this week, and let them do the last part.

U

LEAD YOUR BUSINESS

Unit cost · The price you never go below

Underpricing hides in the hours you don't count. Write one job's real cost once, and you know your floor.

WHY IT MATTERS

Most underpricing hides in the hours you don't count: the calls, the changes, the travel. Write down the real cost of one job once, and you know the line you must never sell below; below it, you pay to work. A calculator does the sum in a minute; holding the line is the part only you can do.

1. Tap. What I sell most is priced...

   ☐ by the hour ☐ per job ☐ as a package ☐ by guess

2. Slide. Hours a typical job really takes, start to finish

   0 ——— 40 hours

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   One job costs me _____ (materials and fees) plus _____ (hours) hours × _____ (my hour) =

   _____ (the total). I never sell it below _____ (your floor).

4. The day. By which day will your lowest price be written next to your prices? _____ (a day)

5. Done when _____ is written next to your price list by _____, and every quote you sent this week was at or above it.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: WHAT YOU SELL

The line I never sell below

1. One job: _____ + _____ hours × _____ = _____.
2. I never sell it below _____.
3. If a client asks for less: "At that price I can offer _____ instead."

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Write the floor next to your price list by the day you chose, and send every quote this week at or above it.

☐ Look Write every cost of delivering your first job: materials, fees, tools, and your hours at your hour's price from Level 04.

☐ Decide Write the floor for what you sell most: the real cost, plus what the business must keep. Below it, you pay to work. Example: Real cost $120; floor $180.

☐ Involve Show the floor to one person who knows business, and ask what you missed.

☐ Keep Count the real cost again after each of your first three sales.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: take your last job, count every hour it really took, and write the real cost.

R

LEAD THE MARKET

Rhythm · A fixed hour for marketing

Marketing done only when the diary is empty arrives too late. One fixed hour a week, where buyers already gather, adds up.

> WHY IT MATTERS
> Marketing done only when the diary is empty arrives too late, because buyers take time to decide. One fixed hour a week, where your buyers already gather, adds up. Show your clients' results more than yourself.

1. Tap. Where my buyers already gather

   ☐ Instagram ☐ LinkedIn ☐ my neighbourhood ☐ other businesses ☐ I don't know

2. Slide. Hours a week you spend finding buyers

   None ——— 10 hours

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   Every _____ which day from _____ from to _____ to I _____ one marketing action on _____ where .

4. Done when on _____ , from _____ to _____ , you did " _____ " on _____ , and the hour is in your calendar for four weeks.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR MARKETING

My hour for marketing, every week

1. Every _____ , _____ to _____ : _____ on _____ .
2. Ideas for the next four weeks: 1 _____ 2 _____ 3 _____ 4 _____
3. Replies or enquiries this week: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Hold the hour on the day you chose, do the one action, and book the same hour for the next four weeks.

☐ Look Count where the people interested in the idea came from: which group, post or person.

☐ Decide Write your marketing hour: the day, the time, one action, and where. Example: Wednesday 9–10: one tip for new parents in the local parents' group.

☐ Involve Ask one person with the problem if you may share their question or story.

☐ Keep Every Friday, count the replies and messages the hour brought.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: one post or message this week, in the same hour, and book next week's hour now.

LEVEL 07 · YOUR WEEK

Four actions, each with its day

	DOMAIN	THE ACTION, IN A FEW WORDS	DAY	HOW SURE	SUNDAY
☐ ★	Lead yourself			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your people			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your business			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead the market			%	☐ ☐ ☐

Tick ★ on the domain your North Star marked "Start here": that one is My one move on your Planner's Monday page; the other three are your Three goals. Sunday: Done · Partly · Not yet. Ten minutes.

08

WEEK 8 · VALUE · YOUR OFFER AND ITS PRICE

GOLD · Your offer

BY SUNDAY YOU WILL HAVE

Your gift named and one thing dropped, three clear client steps, three price levels, your offer in one line.

~~"I do a bit of everything."~~ → "I am paid for what I do best, at a price that respects both of us."

FIRST, LAST WEEK

Read last week's four actions. Each one: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet. Not done? Take its smaller step this week.

G

LEAD YOURSELF

Gift · What you are best at, and what to stop

Stand where what you do best meets what people will pay for. Dropping one thing makes room for the better one.

WHY IT MATTERS

Doing a bit of everything feels safe, but it hides your best work and makes you hard to recommend. Stand where what you do best meets what people will pay for. Dropping one thing makes room for the better one.

1. Tap. What people thank me for most

   ☐ solving problems ☐ teaching ☐ making things ☐ organising ☐ calming people down

2. Slide. How much of your paid work uses that gift?

   None ——— All of it

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   I am best at _____ (your gift). People pay me for _____ (what they pay for). I stop selling _____ (one thing).

4. The day. By which day will you stop selling them? _____ (a day)

5. Done when by _____, _____ came off your price list or offer page, or you said no to one request.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: WHAT YOU SELL

My best work

1. I am best at _____ .
2. People pay me for _____ .
3. I stop selling _____ . When asked: "I don't do that any more; _____ does it well."

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By the day you chose, take the one thing off your price list or offer page, or say no to the next request for it.

☐ Look Ask three people who know you: "What do you come to me for?" Write their exact words.

☐ Decide Write one line: "I am best at ___. People pay me for ___. I stop selling ___." Example: Best at explaining hard things simply; paid for calm evenings; I stop: one-off favours.

☐ Involve Tell the next person who asks for it where else they can get it.

☐ Keep Each month, write what people came to you for, and keep the idea built around it.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: decline the next request for ..., kindly, with a name to send them to.

O

LEAD YOUR PEOPLE

Others in it · Three clear steps after yes

Clients judge you most in the days after they say yes. Three clear steps make them feel led.

WHY IT MATTERS

Clients judge you most in the days right after they say yes. Confusion there costs referrals; clear steps make people feel led and safe. Write the steps once, and anyone on your team can give the same good start.

1. Tap. Where clients wait or get confused

   ☐ at the start ☐ during delivery ☐ at payment ☐ after it's done

2. Slide. Steps from "yes" to delivered

   1 ——— 15

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   After a client says yes, they get: 1 _____ step one , 2 _____ step two , 3 _____ step three . _____ a name handles step _____ which step .

4. The day. By which day will the three steps be written? _____ a day
5. Done when by _____, the three steps are in the message every new client gets, and _____ knows step _____ is theirs.

How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

Building No clients yet? Write the three steps for your first one, and walk a friend through them.

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR SYSTEMS

The welcome message, ready to send

1. Thank you for saying yes. Here is what happens now:
2. 1. _____ · 2. _____ · 3. _____
3. _____ looks after step _____. Any question, just reply.

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By the day you chose, put the three steps in the message every new client gets.

☐ Look Write what would happen, step by step, after your first customer says yes. Mark the steps you have not planned.

☐ Decide Write the three steps every new client gets: what, when, and who owns each. Example: 1 a welcome message the same day · 2 a short call in two days · 3 a check-in after a week.

☐ Involve Walk a friend through the three steps as if they had just bought, and fix what confuses them.

☐ Keep Each month, read the steps against what the last new client actually got, and fix one.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: send the three steps to your next client, even if the message is not perfect yet.

L

LEAD YOUR BUSINESS

Levels · Your price, in three levels

One price asks yes or no; three levels ask "which one?". The highest shows what your work is worth.

WHY IT MATTERS

One price asks for a yes or a no; three levels ask "which one?". A higher level shows what your work is worth, even to people who do not buy it. Say the price once, calmly, and then stop talking.

1. Tap. How I set prices now

☐ same as others ☐ by the hour ☐ by feel ☐ from my costs and value

2. Slide. How confident are you saying your price out loud?

   I mumble ——— I say it calmly

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   Essential: _____ what's in it at _____ price. Complete: _____ what's in it at _____ price. Premium: _____ what's in it at _____ price.

4. The day. By which day will the three levels be on your offer page? _____ a day

5. Done when by _____, the three levels are on your offer page, price list or a pinned post, and you said them out loud once to a buyer.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: WHAT YOU SELL

My three levels

1. Essential: _____, _____.
2. Complete: _____, _____.
3. Premium: _____, _____.
4. After the price: "Which one feels right for you?" Then stop talking.

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By the day you chose, put the three levels on your offer page or price list, and say them out loud to one buyer.

☐ Look Find three offers that people with this problem already pay for. Write their prices, and what is in each.

☐ Decide Write three levels: Essential, Complete and Premium, what is in each, and its price. Each one sits above your floor from Level 07. Example: $49 · $149 · $390.

☐ Involve Show the three levels to three people with the problem, and ask: "Which one would you choose?"

☐ Keep Each month, count how many chose each level. The count is quick; whether to change a level is your decision.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: say the three levels out loud to one person you trust, then to one buyer.

D

LEAD THE MARKET

Desire · Your offer in one line

A clever offer gets admired; a clear one gets bought. If customers can repeat it, they can sell it for you.

> WHY IT MATTERS
> A clever offer gets admired; a clear one gets bought and recommended. If a customer can repeat it after hearing it once, they can sell it for you. Say it the same way every time.

1. Tap. What my customer wants most

   ☐ time back ☐ more money ☐ less worry ☐ to look good ☐ better health

2. Slide. Could a customer repeat your offer after hearing it once?

   No ——— Word for word

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   For _____ who who _____ their problem, I _____ what you do, so they _____ their result, within _____ how long.

4. The day. By which day will you have said it to three people? _____ a day

5. Done when by _____, you said the line to three people the same way, and asked one of them to say it back.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: WHAT YOU SELL

My offer in one line

1. For _____ who _____, I _____, so they _____, within _____.
2. Said to: 1 _____ 2 _____ 3 _____
3. Who could say it back: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By the day you chose, say the line to three people the same way, and ask one of them to say it back.

☐ Look Write how you describe the idea today. Count the words, and mark the ones a customer would never use.

☐ Decide Write the line: "For ___ who ___, I ___, so they ___, within ___." Example: For new parents with no evening left, I plan a calm bedtime with them, so they get an hour back, within two weeks.

☐ Involve Ask a customer to say what you do, in their own words. Where their words are better, use them.

☐ Keep Put the line at the top of everything you send about the idea.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: say the line to one person today and ask them to say it back.

LEVEL 08 · YOUR WEEK

Four actions, each with its day

	DOMAIN	THE ACTION, IN A FEW WORDS	DAY	HOW SURE	SUNDAY
☐ ★	Lead yourself			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your people			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your business			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead the market			%	☐ ☐ ☐

Tick ★ on the domain your North Star marked "Start here": that one is My one move on your Planner's Monday page; the other three are your Three goals. Sunday: Done · Partly · Not yet. Ten minutes.

09

WEEK 9 · SYSTEMS · A BUSINESS THAT RUNS WITHOUT YOU

FLOW · Your systems

BY SUNDAY YOU WILL HAVE

A weekly review held, one area with an owner, one page of cash, your warm list written down.

~~"If I'm not there, it stops."~~ → "A good system carries the business on my worst day."

FIRST, LAST WEEK

Read last week's four actions. Each one: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet. Not done? Take its smaller step this week.

F

LEAD YOURSELF

First things weekly · A weekly review you keep

Without a weekly review, the week plans you. Ten honest minutes, every week, is how you steer.

WHY IT MATTERS

Without a weekly review, the week plans you. A short, honest look back (what you promised, what happened, what the numbers say) is how you steer. A short review kept every week beats a long one skipped.

1. Tap. When I plan my week

   ☐ never ☐ as it comes ☐ Monday morning ☐ Sunday evening

2. Slide. Weekly promises to yourself kept last week, out of 10

   None ——— All ten

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   Every _____ (which day) at _____ (what time) I spend ten minutes: look back, read the numbers, choose _____ (how many priorities) priorities.

4. Done when on _____ at _____ you held the review and wrote _____ priorities on your Planner's Monday page (or on paper).

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR SYSTEMS

My weekly review, every _____ at _____

1. Promised: _____ · happened: _____
2. The numbers: in _____ · out _____ · left _____
3. Next week's _____ priorities: 1 _____ 2 _____ 3 _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Hold the ten-minute review on the day you chose, and write the three priorities on next week's first page.

☐ Look Open last week's notes and calendar. Write what you promised yourself for the idea, and what happened.

☐ Decide Write your weekly review: the day, the time, and the three questions you answer. The three questions: "What did I promise, and what happened? What do the numbers say? What are next week's three priorities?"

☐ Involve Send your three priorities to one person who will ask you about them next Friday.

☐ Keep Put the review in your calendar every week for the next twelve weeks.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: this week, answer only the first line, on paper.

L

LEAD YOUR PEOPLE

Lean on roles · One area with an owner

Being needed for everything is a ceiling. An area with an owner and a limit keeps running on your worst day.

WHY IT MATTERS

Being needed for everything feels good, and it is a ceiling on your business. An area with a named owner, a spending limit and a clear "call me when" keeps running on your worst day. Write it down, so it lasts longer than your mood.

1. Tap. If I were sick for a week...

   ☐ the business stops ☐ things slow down ☐ most of it runs ☐ it runs fine

2. Slide. Tasks only you can do today

   None ——— 20

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   _____ a name owns _____ an area. They decide alone up to _____ a limit. They call me when _____ when.

4. The day. By which day will them know? _____ a day

5. Done when by _____, _____ has it in writing: they own _____ up to _____, and you passed them the next decision in that area.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

Building No team? Name the tool, template or freelancer that owns the area, and what you still check.

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR SYSTEMS

The owner note

1. _____ owns _____ .
2. They decide alone up to _____ .
3. They call me when _____ . Otherwise, I trust their decision.

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By the day you chose, give the owner the note in writing, and pass them the next decision in that area.

☐ Look List the areas of the idea: building, customers, money, admin. Mark the ones only you can do today.

☐ Decide Pick the area that interrupts you most. Write who owns it, what they decide alone up to, and when they call you. Example: The inbox and bookings: a freelance assistant, up to $100, calls me for refunds.

☐ Involve When the first decision comes back to you, ask: "What would you decide?" If it is within the limit, let their answer stand.

☐ Keep Each month, write down one more area a tool or a freelancer could own.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: give ... one decision this week, up to ..., and let it stand.

O

LEAD YOUR BUSINESS

One page of cash · One page of cash

Cash surprises end good businesses. A simple page, read every week with an alert line, shows them weeks early.

WHY IT MATTERS

Cash surprises end good businesses, and a surprise often shows weeks earlier on a simple page: in, out, left, every week, with an alert line you act on the same day. Software can fill the page; only you can act on it.

1. Tap. What I check every week

   ☐ nothing ☐ the bank balance ☐ sales ☐ money in, out and left

2. Slide. Months you could pay all costs if sales stopped today

   0 ——— 12 months

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   Every _____ (which day) : money in _____ (amount) , money out _____ (amount) , left _____ (amount) . My alert line is _____ (the minimum) .

4. Done when on _____ the page shows this week's in, out and left, and the line "Below _____ , the same day I …" is filled in.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR MONEY

My cash page, every _____

1. In: _____ · out: _____ · left: _____
2. Alert line: _____ . Below it, the same day I: _____
3. Paid to myself this month: _____ · set aside for tax: _____
4. Next four weeks, expected in: _____ · out: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) On the day you chose, fill the page with this week's numbers, and write the alert line on it.

☐ Look Open your bank account. Write this week's money in, out and left, and how many months your savings cover.

☐ Decide Write your alert line, and what you do the same day you cross it. Example: Below four months of savings: I pause spending on the idea and ask three people to pre-order.

☐ Involve Show the page to one person you trust, and ask them to ask you about it every month.

☐ Keep Read the page every week on the same day. Software fills it; acting the same day you cross the line is yours.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: fill only the first line this week, from the bank, on ….

W

LEAD THE MARKET

Warm list · A warm list you can see

A list in your head is a list you forget. Written down, every name has a next step you can take.

> WHY IT MATTERS
> A pipeline in your head is a pipeline you forget. Written down, every name has a next step, and you can see the list getting thin before the work runs out. Move a few people one step each week.

1. Tap. Where my last five clients came from

   ☐ referrals ☐ social media ☐ ads ☐ my network ☐ repeat clients

2. Slide. Warm conversations open right now

   None ——— 30

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   My warm list has _____ how many names names. Every _____ which day I move _____ how many of them one step closer, from _____ a step to _____ the next step.

4. Done when the _____ names are written down, and on _____ you took the next step with _____ of them.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR SALES

My warm list

1. Name · where they are (met → talked → offer → yes) · next step · by when
2. _____ names. Every _____ : move _____ from _____ to _____ .
3. The list is thin when fewer than _____ names are open.

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) On the day you chose, move the number of names you set one step closer, and write the new step next to each.

☐ Look Write down everyone who has shown interest in the idea, from your phone, your messages and your notes. Count them.

☐ Decide Next to each name, write where they are (met → talked → offer → yes), and the next step with a date.

☐ Involve Share the list with one person who will ask you each week how many names moved.

☐ Keep Every week, on the same day, move names one step and add the new ones.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: write down ten names today, with one next step each.

LEVEL 09 · YOUR WEEK

Four actions, each with its day

	DOMAIN	THE ACTION, IN A FEW WORDS	DAY	HOW SURE	SUNDAY
☐ ★	Lead yourself			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your people			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your business			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead the market			%	☐ ☐ ☐

Tick ★ on the domain your North Star marked “Start here”: that one is My one move on your Planner’s Monday page; the other three are your Three goals. Sunday: Done · Partly · Not yet. Ten minutes.

CHAPTER II READING

Run the business, read together

Where you were. Add up your slides across the chapter: my lowest domain _____ my highest _____

What you did. Done _____ Partly _____ Not yet _____ of _____ actions checked on Sunday.

How you estimate. ○ too hopeful ○ about right ○ too careful (the same three words as your Planner's Sunday page)

What you believed, what you believe now.

- ~~"If I say it, it will get worse."~~ "What is unsaid costs more every week."
- ~~"There is never enough time."~~ "My hours have a price, and I decide who gets them."
- ~~"I do a bit of everything."~~ "I am paid for what I do best, at a price that respects both of us."
- ~~"If I'm not there, it stops."~~ "A good system carries the business on my worst day."

Where you began. My North Star said start with _____. Now my lowest corner is _____.

> "Stick to what you do best, and serve people. The money follows the service, not the other way round."
>
> Alexandru · Worth Building · The 50/50 rule

Carry one forward. The undone action that matters most:

By _____
a day

BUILD IT · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR SYSTEMS

Your operations page

> WHY IT MATTERS
> Everything Levels 07 to 09 wrote, on one page: who owns what, what happens after a client says yes, the cash you watch and the review you keep. A page someone else can run the week from.

Who owns what (Level 09 · Lean on roles)

After a client says yes (Level 08 · Others in it)

Moving up, one step (Level 07 · Own it)

Protected hours (Level 07 · Hold the line)

Cash, every week (Level 09 · One page of cash)

The weekly review (Level 09 · First things weekly)

The warm list (Level 09 · Warm list)

Who gets a copy of this page?

By which day will you read it together? _____
a day

Done when _____ has the page, and you read it together by _____ .

1:1 WITH ALEXANDRU AND THE TEAM

Session 2 · Open the market

When. After the Chapter II reading (end of Level 09), before Level 10.

Bring. The Chapter II reading, your offer line (Level 08), your three price levels and your warm list (Level 09).

1. Read the Chapter II reading together: what moved, what did not.

2. Say the offer line and the three prices out loud, and fix what stumbles.

3. Choose the first ten names from the warm list for Level 10.

4. Draft the twelve-week number that Level 12 makes final.

Done when ten names are chosen for Level 10, and a first draft of the twelve-week number is written.

CHAPTER III

Grow the market

Outside the business: reach, advantage and leadership, so customers come to you.

10

WEEK 10 · REACH · YOUR FIRST HUNDRED NAMES

NAME · Your first hundred names

BY SUNDAY YOU WILL HAVE

Ten people contacted, one partner asked, your best client described, three customer conversations booked.

~~"I don't know anyone."~~ → "I know more people than I think, and each knows more."

FIRST, LAST WEEK

Read last week's four actions. Each one: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet. Not done? Take its smaller step this week.

N

LEAD YOURSELF

Network · People you already know

You know more people than you think, and each knows people you don't. Asking "who do you know?" invites them to help.

WHY IT MATTERS

You know more people than you think, and each of them knows people you don't. First clients usually come from someone who already trusts you. Asking "who do you know?" is an invitation to help, not a favour.

1. Tap. What stops me reaching out

   ☐ fear of a no ☐ not wanting to bother ☐ no time ☐ not knowing who

2. Slide. People in your phone who fit your client, or know one

   None ——— 100

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   This week I contact _____ (how many) people I already know, starting with _____ (a name). I say: "_____ (your opening line)"

4. The day. By which day will the messages be sent? _____ (a day)

5. Done when by _____, _____ messages are sent, starting with _____, and you counted the replies.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR MARKETING

The message to people you know

1. " _____ "
2. Sent to: _____ , _____ , _____ … (_____ in all)
3. Replies: _____ · introductions: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By the day you chose, send the line to the number of people you set, starting with the first name, and count the replies.

☐ Look Go through your phone and the last year of messages. Write everyone who has the problem you solve, or knows someone who does. Count them.

☐ Decide Write your opening line: who you help, then "Who do you know who…?" Example: "I'm starting a service that gives new parents their evenings back. Who do you know with a baby under one?"

☐ Involve When someone gives you a name, ask: "May I say you suggested it?" Then write to that person within two days.

☐ Keep Every week, add ten names to the list, and send the line to five of them.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: send the message to three people today, starting with ….

A

LEAD YOUR PEOPLE

Ambassadors · One partner asked

Someone already meets your clients every week. One good partner can send more work than months of posting.

WHY IT MATTERS

Someone already meets your clients every week: an accountant, a supplier, a past client. One good partner can send more work than months of posting. Make it a fair trade, and offer something first.

1. Tap. Who already meets my clients

   ☐ an accountant ☐ a supplier ☐ another professional ☐ past clients

2. Slide. Possible partners you could name today

   None ——— 20

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   I ask _____ to introduce me to two people who _____ . In return I _____ .
   a name what they need what you give

4. The day. By which day will you ask them? _____
   a day

5. Done when by _____ , you asked for two introductions from _____ , and offered your part first.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR MARKETING

The partner ask, ready to send

1. Hi _____ , could you introduce me to two people who _____ ?
2. In return, I _____ .
3. Introductions received: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By the day you chose, send the partner your ask, with your part offered first.

☐ Look List who already meets the people you want to serve: a shop, a group, a professional. Count them.

☐ Decide Pick one partner, and write the fair trade: the two introductions you ask for, and what you give first.
Example: The leader of the parents' group: two introductions; I run a free evening for the group.

☐ Involve When an introduction comes, thank the partner the same day, and tell them what happened next.

☐ Keep Each month, send the partner one useful thing for the people they serve.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: send the message today, to .... A no is fine; ask the next partner.

LEAD YOUR BUSINESS

M Map the money · Your best client, described

Your best clients share things you can name. Describe them, and you know where to look and what to say.

> WHY IT MATTERS
> Your best clients are not random; they share things you can name. Describe them, and you know where to look and what to say. Depending on very few clients feels fine until one leaves.

1. Tap. Most of my money comes from

   ☐ a few big clients ☐ many small ones ☐ one client ☐ I don't know

2. Slide. Share of sales from your top three clients

   0% ——— 100%

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   My best clients share three things: _____ (one), _____ (two), _____ (three). I want _____ (how many more) more of them by _____ (a date).

4. The day. By which day will you list them? _____ (a day)

5. Done when by _____, every current client who shares all three is listed by name.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

Building Fewer than three clients? Describe the one you want most, and the first one who paid.

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR MARKETING

My best client

1. They _____, _____ and _____.
2. Today they are: _____ (names)
3. I want _____ more by _____. Where I find them: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By the day you chose, list by name every current client who shares all three, and every name on your warm list who does.

☐ Look Write the three people closest to buying, and what they have in common.

☐ Decide Write the three things your best clients share, and how many more you want, by when. Example: Parents of a first baby, both working, already paying for help at home: five more by March.

☐ Involve Ask one of the three where people like them look for help, and go there next week.

☐ Keep Each week, check every new name against the three things before you spend time on them.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: list your current clients and tick those who share all three.

E

LEAD THE MARKET

Engage · Customer conversations about their past

People are polite about your idea and honest about their past. Ask what they tried and what it cost them.

WHY IT MATTERS

People are polite about your idea and honest about their past. Ask when they last had the problem, what they tried and what it cost them. Their exact words show you what to build next, and how to sell it.

1. Tap. The first thing I'll ask a customer

   ☐ what they struggle with ☐ what they tried ☐ what it costs them ☐ what they want instead

2. Slide. Customer conversations you can hold per week

   None ——— 15

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   I ask _____ how many people: "When did you last _____ the problem ? What did you try? What did it cost you?" I write their exact words.

4. The day. By which day will the invitations be sent? _____ a day

5. Done when by _____ , _____ people are invited, and every conversation held so far is written down the same day.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR NEXT TWELVE WEEKS

The three questions

1. “When did you last _____ ? What did you try? What did it cost you?”
2. What I heard most: 1 _____ 2 _____ 3 _____
3. What I build or change because of it: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By the day you chose, invite the number of people you set, and write each conversation down the same day, word for word.

☐ Look Count the conversations you have had with people who have the problem, and how many were about their past, not your idea.

☐ Decide Write the three questions about the last time it happened: “When did you last ___? What did you try? What did it cost you?”

☐ Involve At the end of each one, ask: “Who else has this problem that I should talk to?”

☐ Keep Each Friday, read the week’s notes, and write the words you heard twice. They are the start of what you build.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: hold one conversation this week and write their words the same day.

LEVEL 10 · YOUR WEEK

Four actions, each with its day

	DOMAIN	THE ACTION, IN A FEW WORDS	DAY	HOW SURE	SUNDAY
☐ ★	Lead yourself			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your people			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your business			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead the market			%	☐ ☐ ☐

Tick ★ on the domain your North Star marked “Start here”: that one is My one move on your Planner’s Monday page; the other three are your Three goals. Sunday: Done · Partly · Not yet. Ten minutes.

11 WEEK 11 · ADVANTAGE · WHY YOU, AND NOT THEM

EDGE · Your advantage

BY SUNDAY YOU WILL HAVE

Three people asked for honest feedback, one open question in a meeting, your advantage written with proof, three testimonials asked for.

~~"Everyone does what I do."~~ → "I am chosen for a reason I can name and prove."

FIRST, LAST WEEK

Read last week's four actions. Each one: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet. Not done? Take its smaller step this week.

E LEAD YOURSELF

Ego check · Asking for honest feedback

The people around you see what you cannot, and most only say it if you ask. Then you only say thank you.

WHY IT MATTERS

The people around you see what you cannot see in yourself, and most will only say it if you ask. Asking for feedback, and only saying thank you, is how you hear what competitors never hear. You decide later what to do with it.

1. Tap. When I get criticism, I...

   ☐ defend myself ☐ shut down ☐ overthink for days ☐ use it

2. Slide. People who told you something hard this month

   None ——— Ten

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   I ask _____ (one person), _____ (another) and _____ (a third): "What's one thing I do that makes working with me harder?" I only say thank you.

4. The day. By which day will you have asked all three? _____ (a day)

5. Done when by _____ you asked _____, _____ and _____, wrote each answer down, and only said thank you. No answer counts too.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR PEOPLE

The feedback question

1. "What's one thing I do that makes working with me harder?"
2. Asked: _____ , _____ , _____ .
3. What I heard: _____ · the one thing I change: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Ask all three by the day you chose. Write each answer down, and only say thank you.

☐ Look Write the last three times someone told you something hard about the idea, and what you did with each.

☐ Decide Write the three people you will ask, and the one question: "What's one thing I do that makes working with me harder?"

☐ Involve Pick one thing you heard and change it this month. Tell the person who said it when it is done.

☐ Keep Ask one person who tried the idea the same question every month.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: ask one of the three today, and only say thank you.

D

LEAD YOUR PEOPLE

Dialogue · One open question, every meeting

Silence in a meeting looks like agreement, and is often fear. One question asked every week makes bad news welcome.

WHY IT MATTERS

Silence in a meeting looks like agreement, but often it is fear. A question asked every week tells people that bad news and new ideas are welcome. Write down what you hear before you answer, so they see you took it in.

1. Tap. What my team or partners avoid telling me

   ☐ bad news ☐ their ideas ☐ that they're overloaded ☐ nothing, they tell me

2. Slide. How safe is it to disagree with you?

   Not safe —— Safe

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   In every _____ I ask: "What isn't working that I don't know?" and I which meeting

   _____ before I answer.
   what you do first

4. The day. Which day is the next them? _____ a day
5. Done when at your next _____ you asked the question, and before answering you did this: _____ .

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

Building No team meeting? Ask it of a partner, a supplier, or a client at the end of each job.

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR PEOPLE

The open question, every _____

1. "What isn't working that I don't know?"
2. Before I answer: _____ .
3. What came up this week: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) Ask the question at your next meeting, and do what you wrote before you answer.

☐ Look Read the last month of messages with your partner or helpers. Count the times someone told you something was not working before you found it.

☐ Decide Write the question for every meeting, "What isn't working that I don't know?", and what you do before you answer. Example: Before I answer, I write it down.

☐ Involve Pick one thing raised in the meeting, fix it by the next one, and say so at the start of it.

☐ Keep For a month, ask the question at the end of every conversation with the people who help you.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: ask the question once, to one person, at the end of any conversation this week.

G

LEAD YOUR BUSINESS

Gap · Your advantage, with proof

If you look the same as everyone else, price decides. Name what you do differently, and put the proof beside it.

WHY IT MATTERS

If you look the same as everyone else, price decides. Your advantage is what you do differently, why you can do it, and proof that it works. Put the proof right next to the claim, where buyers decide.

1. Tap. Customers compare me with

   ☐ a competitor ☐ doing nothing ☐ doing it themselves ☐ a cheaper option

2. Slide. How different do you look to a buyer?

   The same ——— One of a kind

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   Others offer _____ (what others offer). I offer _____ (what you offer), because _____ (why you can). Proof: _____ (one fact).

4. The day. By which day will it be where buyers see it? _____ (a day)

5. Done when by _____, the sentence and its proof are on your offer page, or in a message or proposal you sent this week.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR MARKETING

My advantage

1. Others offer _____. I offer _____, because _____.
2. Proof: _____.
3. Where buyers see it: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By the day you chose, put the sentence and its proof on your offer page, or in the next proposal you send.

☐ Look Find three ways people with this problem solve it today. Write what each offers, and what it costs.

☐ Decide Write your advantage: "Others offer ___. I offer ___, because ___. Proof: ___." Example: Others offer apps; I offer a person who plans bedtime with you, because I have done it for years. Proof: the first two families, in their words.

☐ Involve Read the sentence to one client, and ask: "Is that why you chose us?" Where their words are better, use them.

☐ Keep Each month, add one new proof next to the sentence.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: add the one proof line to your next proposal or message.

E

LEAD THE MARKET

Echo · Testimonials asked for

Two sentences in a client's own words do more than any line you write about yourself. Ask simply, with two questions.

> WHY IT MATTERS
> Two sentences in a client's own words do more than any line you write about yourself. Most clients are glad to help when asked simply, with two clear questions. Put their words where the next buyer decides.

1. Tap. Where my proof lives

   ☐ nowhere ☐ in my head ☐ screenshots on my phone ☐ public reviews

2. Slide. Written testimonials you could show today

   None ——— 20

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   By _____ a date I ask _____ how many clients for two sentences: what changed for them, and who they would recommend me to.

4. Done when you asked _____ clients by _____ , and every answer received is on your offer page, with their permission.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

Building No clients yet? Ask three people who tried it, or who have the problem you solve.

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR MARKETING

The testimonial ask, ready to send

1. "Could you write two sentences: what changed for you, and who you would recommend me to? May I share them with your name?"
2. Asked: _____ clients, by _____ . Received: _____
3. Where I put them: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By the day you chose, send the ask to the number of clients you set.

☐ Look Collect every kind thing people who tried the idea have written to you: messages, emails, comments. Count them.

☐ Decide Write the ask, with two questions and a permission: “What changed for you? Who would you recommend me to? May I share it with your name?”

☐ Involve When an answer comes, thank them, and ask once for a public review where your buyers look.

☐ Keep Put every answer you may share next to your offer, and ask the next person who tries it.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: ask one happy client today, by message.

LEVEL 11 · YOUR WEEK

Four actions, each with its day

	DOMAIN	THE ACTION, IN A FEW WORDS	DAY	HOW SURE	SUNDAY
☐ ★	Lead yourself			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your people			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your business			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead the market			%	☐ ☐ ☐

Tick ★ on the domain your North Star marked “Start here”: that one is My one move on your Planner’s Monday page; the other three are your Three goals. Sunday: Done · Partly · Not yet. Ten minutes.

12

WEEK 12 · LEADERSHIP · YOUR NEXT TWELVE WEEKS

RISE · Your twelve weeks

BY SUNDAY YOU WILL HAVE

Your leader sentence written, one person given something to own, a twelve-week number with checkpoints, one market test set.

~~"I am a person with a business."~~ → "I am a leader who builds people and serves a market."

FIRST, LAST WEEK

Read last week's four actions. Each one: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet. Not done? Take its smaller step this week.

R

LEAD YOURSELF

Rule of life · Who you are now

After twelve weeks you have proof, not only hope. Write who you are now, and read it when old doubts return.

WHY IT MATTERS

After twelve weeks you have proof, not only hope. Write who you are now in one sentence and read it every Monday: old doubts come back on hard days, and the sentence and your proof list are the answer. Leadership starts with the leader.

1. Tap. What changed most in me since Level 01

   ☐ what I believe ☐ how calm I stay ☐ how I decide ☐ how I handle money ☐ how I sell

2. Slide. How much do you trust yourself to decide now?

   Not at all —— Fully

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   I am a leader who _____ . In twelve weeks I will be known for _____ .
   who you are what for

4. The day. By which day will you read it aloud to someone? _____
   a day

5. Done when by _____ , the sentence is on the first page of your Planner (or on paper where you see it), and you read it aloud to one person.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOU, AS A LEADER

Who I am now

1. I am a leader who _____ .
2. In twelve weeks I will be known for _____ .
3. I read it every Monday, with my proof list.

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By the day you chose, read the sentence aloud to one person, and put it on the first page of your Planner.

☐ Look Read your proof list from Level 05 and your sentences from Levels 01 and 05. Mark three things you do now that you did not do twelve weeks ago.

☐ Decide Write who you are now in one sentence, and what you will be known for in twelve weeks. Example: A founder who asks, listens and ships a little every week; known for calm evenings for new parents.

☐ Involve Ask the person you read it to: "What have you seen me do that fits it?" Write their answer.

☐ Keep Read the sentence and your proof list every Monday, before the week starts.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: read the sentence aloud to yourself every morning this week. Then to one person.

I

LEAD YOUR PEOPLE

Invest in people · Growing the next leader

Doing it yourself is faster today and slower for ever. A leader grows leaders with real ownership and good questions.

WHY IT MATTERS

Doing it yourself is faster today and slower for ever. A leader grows leaders by giving real ownership and asking questions instead of handing out answers. One person, one area, one question a week.

1. Tap. Who could lead with me

   ☐ someone on my team ☐ a partner ☐ a client ☐ nobody yet

2. Slide. Hours a week you will invest in them

   None ——— 10 hours

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   I grow _____ by giving them _____ to own. Every _____ a name something to own which day

   I ask: “ _____ ”
   your coaching question

4. Done when _____ knows, in writing, that they own _____ , and on _____ you asked “ _____ ”

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

Building Nobody yet? Pick the freelancer you use most, or the first person you would hire, and give them one decision.

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don’t fight it.

Where you shine Don’t ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR PEOPLE

Growing _____

1. _____ owns _____ .
2. Every _____ I ask: “ _____ ”
3. What they decided well this month: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By the day you chose, give them the ownership in writing, and ask your question once.

☐ Look List the people who already help the idea: a partner, a freelancer, a first customer. Mark the one who could own something.

☐ Decide Write what they will own, their limit, and the question you will ask each week. Example: Sam owns the sign-up page and its changes; every Thursday: “What did you change, and why?”

☐ Involve Ask them: “What do you need from me to own this well?” Give it to them by Friday.

☐ Keep Every week, on the same day, ask your question and only listen.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: ask … the question once this week, and only listen.

S

LEAD YOUR BUSINESS

Scale the number · One number for the next twelve weeks

A big target scares and a small one bores. Two checkpoints tell you early whether to push on or change course.

> WHY IT MATTERS
> A big target scares and a small one bores; checkpoints make a big one honest. One number, two checkpoints, read every week, tell you early whether to push on or change course. The number serves the decision, never the other way round.

1. Tap. The one number that matters most for the next twelve weeks

   ☐ profit ☐ clients ☐ price ☐ cash ☐ my hours

2. Slide. Growth you aim for in twelve weeks

   0% ——— 100%

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   In twelve weeks: _____ (the number) from _____ (today) to _____ (the target) a month.

   Checkpoints: _____ (week 4), _____ (week 8).

4. The day. By which day will it be in your Planner? _____ (a day)

5. Done when by _____, _____ (from _____ to _____) and both dated checkpoints are in your Planner, or on paper where you see them.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR NEXT TWELVE WEEKS

My next twelve weeks

1. The number: _____, from _____ to _____.
2. Week 4: _____ · week 8: _____.
3. If week 4 misses, the first thing I look at: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By the day you chose, put the number and both checkpoints in your Planner, and on your weekly review page.

☐ Look Read your numbers from the last twelve weeks: people asked, people who said yes, money spent. Write where you start.

☐ Decide Write one number for the next twelve weeks: from where, to where, and the week-4 and week-8 checkpoints. Make it your business goal in My direction. Example: Paying customers: 0 to 10; week 4: 3; week 8: 6.

☐ Involve Tell one person the number, and ask them to ask you about it at week 4.

☐ Keep Read the number every week in your review. If week 4 misses, write the first thing you change. A spreadsheet draws the line; the change is yours.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: write the number and the first checkpoint in your Planner today; the second can wait a week.

E

LEAD THE MARKET

Expand · Testing your next market move

Certainty comes after a test, not before it. A small test with a number for success protects your money.

WHY IT MATTERS

Certainty comes after a test, not before it. A small test with a clear number for success protects your money and your confidence. If it fails, you learned cheaply; if it works, you know what to do next.

1. Tap. My next market move

   ☐ raise my price ☐ a new customer group ☐ a new channel ☐ a partnership ☐ a new product

2. Slide. How confident are you it will work?

   Not at all —— Certain

   My honest number: _____

3. Write once.

   By _____ a date I test _____ the move with _____ how many people people. Success means _____ what counts. If not, I _____ plan B.

4. The day. By which day will the first invitations go out? _____ a day

5. Done when by _____, the first invitations are out, and success (_____ by _____) is written in your Planner or on paper.

   How sure am I that it is done by Sunday? _____ %

FOUR LINES BACK

Where you were Admit it.

Where you struggle Don't fight it.

Where you shine Don't ignore it.

What you will do Exactly.

YOURS TO KEEP · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR NEXT TWELVE WEEKS

My market test

1. Test: _____ , with _____ people, by _____ .
2. Success means _____ . If not: _____ .
3. Result: _____

FIVE ACTIONS THIS WEEK · WRITTEN FOR: BEFORE THE FIRST SALE

☐ Do (your own action, from your sentence) By the day you chose, send the first invitations, and write the success number in your Planner.

☐ Look Read your notes from the customer conversations of Level 10. Write the three things people asked for most.

☐ Decide Pick one move, and write the test: with how many people, by when, what counts as success, and plan B. Example: A paid evening for 10 parents by 31 Jan; success: 4 bookings; plan B: a weekend morning.

☐ Involve Ask one person who says no: "What would have made it a yes?" Write their words.

☐ Keep Every Friday until the test ends, count invited, yes and no. On the day you set, decide: go on, change, or stop.

Sunday: ☐ Done ☐ Partly ☐ Not yet · Make it smaller: invite the first three people this week.

LEVEL 12 · YOUR WEEK

Four actions, each with its day

	DOMAIN	THE ACTION, IN A FEW WORDS	DAY	HOW SURE	SUNDAY
☐ ★	Lead yourself			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your people			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead your business			%	☐ ☐ ☐
☐ ★	Lead the market			%	☐ ☐ ☐

Tick ★ on the domain your North Star marked "Start here": that one is My one move on your Planner's Monday page; the other three are your Three goals. Sunday: Done · Partly · Not yet. Ten minutes.

CHAPTER III READING

Grow the market, read together

Where you were. Add up your slides across the chapter: my lowest domain _____ my highest _____

What you did. Done _____ Partly _____ Not yet _____ of _____ actions checked on Sunday.

How you estimate. ○ too hopeful ○ about right ○ too careful (the same three words as your Planner's Sunday page)

What you believed, what you believe now.

- ~~"I don't know anyone."~~ "I know more people than I think, and each knows more."
- ~~"Everyone does what I do."~~ "I am chosen for a reason I can name and prove."
- ~~"I am a person with a business."~~ "I am a leader who builds people and serves a market."

Where you began. My North Star said start with _____ . Now my lowest corner is _____ .

> "I believe each of us has been given talents, and that we are meant to multiply them, not bury them."
>
> Alexandru · Worth Building · A word from Alexandru

Carry one forward. The undone action that matters most:

By _____
a day

BUILD IT · GOES INTO YOUR BLUEPRINT: YOUR NEXT TWELVE WEEKS

Your twelve-week page

> WHY IT MATTERS
> A plan is as much what you stop as what you start, and a business is built by a whole person. One page for the next twelve weeks: who you are now, the number and its checkpoints, the test, the person you grow, the one thing you say no to, and the one thing you keep for your health, your family or your rest.

Who I am now (Level 12 · Rule of life)

The number (Level 12 · Scale the number)

The test (Level 12 · Expand)

The person I grow (Level 12 · Invest in people)

The one thing you will say no to for these twelve weeks

One thing for your health, your family or your rest, these twelve weeks

By which day will the page be on your wall? _____
a day

Done when the page is on your wall or the first page of your Planner by _____ , and one person has heard your no.

1:1 WITH ALEXANDRU AND THE TEAM

Session 3 · The next twelve weeks

When. After the Chapter III reading (end of Level 12).

Bring. The Chapter III reading, your twelve-week page, your market test and your Blueprint.

1. Read the twelve weeks together: what you did, how good your estimates became, where you began and where you stand now.

2. Read your Blueprint part by part, and mark the one part to strengthen next.

3. Set the next twelve-week number and its first checkpoint, from your twelve-week page.

4. Choose how you keep going: on your own with the Planner, or with Alexandru and the team.

Done when the next twelve-week number and its first checkpoint are in your Planner, and you know how you keep going.

AFTER TWELVE WEEKS

Your Blueprint, in eight parts

You, as a leader	How you think, feel, decide and rest. 01 Settled · 02 Verify · 03 Call it · 03 Lag · 04 Set it in advance · 05 Fruit is feedback · 07 Hold the line · 12 Rule of life
Your people	How you trust, ask, listen, thank and grow others. 01 Entrust · 02 Inquire · 03 Atmosphere · 04 Tell it clearly · 05 Applaud · 06 Truth first · 06 Ask, then listen · 11 Ego check · 11 Dialogue · 12 Invest in people
What you sell	Your best work, your offer in one line, your prices and the floor you never go below. 04 Essential first · 07 Unit cost · 08 Gift · 08 Levels · 08 Desire
Your marketing	Who you serve, what they fear and hope, your advantage, your proof, and where they hear of you. 03 Meet their fear · 05 Testimony · 07 Rhythm · 10 Network · 10 Ambassadors · 10 Map the money · 11 Gap · 11 Echo
Your sales	How you ask, follow up, read the signals and say a kind no. 01 Dignity · 02 Watch signals · 04 Pace · 06 Kind no · 09 Warm list
Your money	Your enough, the numbers you read, the money owed to you and the cash you watch. 01 Enough · 02 Evidence · 05 Count · 06 Late money · 09 One page of cash
Your systems	What runs without you: owners, steps, hand-overs and the weekly review. 07 Own it · 08 Others in it · 09 First things weekly · 09 Lean on roles
Your next twelve weeks	What customers told you, the number you aim for, and the test you run. 10 Engage · 12 Scale the number · 12 Expand

Then take the North Star again, and compare where you stand with where you began.